

CHINA

Spring Break

Image by Gustavo Salas

China's Healthcare Revolution: Tradition Meets Innovation

An interdisciplinary study abroad experience focused on preventive health and healthcare services in contemporary China. Site visits in Beijing and Shanghai create opportunities to engage with healthcare institutions, community organizations, and local professionals. Open to all majors, the program fosters cross-disciplinary dialogue, global awareness, and applied learning in international health contexts. Visit goabroad.csusb.edu for the program itinerary and additional information.

Program Leaders: Dr. Jie Yu | Associate Professor, Nursing
Dr. Yawen Li | Professor, Social Work

Program Fee: $2600 | Includes roundtrip airfare LAX/China, international travel insurance, accommodations, most meals, and fees and transportation for all scheduled activities. Price reflects Presidential International Education Award and IRA sponsorship. Program fee increases by $800 - $1300 for students ineligible for these discounts. If you are Pell-eligible, consider applying for a $5000 Gilman Scholarship (deadline in March).

Course(s): Earn 3 units of credit for NSCI 3001 (GE B5/UD-5, G, WI) or SSCI 3000 (GE D4/UD-4, DI, G, W). Honors College students can earn credit for HON 3150 or 3200. Social work students can earn elective requirement credit. Spring Break travel is embedded within a full spring semester course. You must enroll in the course to participate in travel.

Travel Dates: 3/27/2026 - 4/5/2026 (9 days) | Spring Course, Spring Break Travel

Apply Today! Application deadline Nov 15th. Apply at goabroad.csusb.edu. Spots limited and first-come, first-served. Early applications are encouraged.

